

FOOD POLICY

While we are cognizant of the many diverse dietary needs of UUCN members and friends, we cannot be responsible for meeting the full range of dietary needs. We encourage full descriptions of ingredients at potlucks, but those with specific needs must make their own decisions on whether foods are appropriate for them and assume the risk if they choose to eat them. Individuals are welcome to bring their own food to events if they feel the need to be sure of ingredients and/or preparation methods. Parents are responsible for monitoring food for children with life threatening allergies.
